A writer in Popular Science Monthly suggests that floor-mopping may be made less of a drudgery if the mopper is provided with a soap-box "chariot." One side of the box should be removed and the other three sides should be about five inches high. The inside should be padded with burlap and the box placed upon four rollers. A dish of soap and a rack for the scrubbing brush may be attached if desired.

LOMITA SCHOOL NOTES NEW ART ROOM

The rest room at the school is being quickly changed into an ideal art room.

With the money raised by the play, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," the woodwork is being painted and there are to be new curtains and pictures.

The school will soon have an Art Room to be proud of, thanks to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Jacks.

THE LITTLE WANDERER

This was the name of the movie held in the school auditorium last Friday night.

Shirley Mason played her part very well, she usually does, and it is a relief to see a picture that is a little out of the ordinary of the hashed and thrashed domestic ones.

Her supporting cast was very good also. And the Mutt and Jeff comedy was certainly a good one.

NEW ENTRIES

There has been several new entries in the school this week.

They are: Viola Wells, B-5; Cella Wells, B-2; from Orange County; Carol Home, B-1, from Norwood school, Los Angeles; Bernard Cunningham, B-6, from Laretta school, Los Angeles; Marguerite Stratton, B-3, from Glendale.

WE ARE LEARNING

Following is from the Dearborn Independent:

"The highest human privilege is to learn. We are learning now that what we did last spring, when jobs were plentiful, was wrong. Whenever we do anything wrong, Nature holds court and assesses damages. Workmen said: 'We have got the bosses where we want them.' They quit on any pretense, per capita production decreased. We should have learned something, for the consequences were not long in coming. But no; we now hear the same thing from some employers: 'The tide is turned; the workmen will have to come to our terms.'

"This is not 'getting even;' it is doubling the evil. Why match one folly by another? Natural law will as quickly penalize society for the unwise employer as for the unwise employee. There are no 'classes;' there is only human society. We prosper or suffer together. Let us be wise."

A lot of physical ailments are cured by sunshine, but every now and then we learn where some fellow has died from trying to bolster himself up with moonshine.

The man who is too good to have a good time isn't too good to envy the man who does.
